Level 3 Grounds: Management

Course description

The key subjects – carrying out a site audit, how to develop an appropriate work programme and budget, the need to communicate findings to senior management, plus more are studied through a progressive one-day IOG Learning course. Delivered by an industry expert, this is a course which explores the needs of the management of a school's grounds and shows how this can be achieved. (Lunch provided)

Some of the subjects covered on this course

- ✓ Undertaking a site audit
- ✓ Standards: actual verses expectations
- ✓ Creating a 12-month work programme
- ✓ Effective management: resource profile
- ✓ Budgets and their effect on a work programme
- ✓ Effective communications with senior management

Is this training day suitable for me?

Consider the wider picture of what is needed to manage a ground – including amenity and sports surfaces as well as ornamental plantings. Being able to create a formal plan which clearly identifies the requirements, resources and budget, is an essential part of helping senior management make well-informed decisions regarding grounds management.

What can I do after this course?

Enhance your learning with our IOG Level 3 Technical Diploma in Turf Surface Management – or IOG Level 3 Supervisory Management. These are formal qualifications in different aspects of turf management and no practical work is involved.
